

THIRD EDITION : MAY 2023

Journalists : Nina V, Aurore V, Candice R, Charlotte M, Soren G, Maelyne C, Roman A, Maxence B

In this new edition, you will read about :

- a book review
- King Charles's coronation
- Yamaha corporation
- special events at Tremolieres

-Ready ? Steady ? Read !!!

Nos vies désaccordées

(novel)

Today I will present you the novel « Nos vies désaccordées » by Gaëlle Josse, a French writer.

It's a story about a pianist « François » who is very famous. He lives only for his career.

He had a girlfriend but she had to be interned to a mental asylum and he ran away instead of taking his responsibility.

He will be confronted with his powerlessness to act and will question his whole life.

He will learn to become better for the one he loves and especially to be more patient.

Gaëlle Josse is a French author born on September 22nd in 1960.

She studied law, clinical psychology and journalism.

She works as an editor for a website in Paris and also organises music listening and writing workshops for adults and teenagers.

Her books are studied in many highschools.

She won many awards for her writing.

I chose to write about this book because I really liked reading it. It felt like we can identify to the main character. It is a modern story. I advise you to read it !

Written by Aurore V.

The coronation

The coronation of Charles III and his wife Camilla Parker Bowles as king and queen consort of the United Kingdom and the other kingdoms of the Commonwealth took place on the 6th of May 2023.

Charles III became king at the death of his mother on the 8th of September 2022. Compared to the last coronations, the ceremony has changed to represent other religions, cultures and communities across the UK, and was shorter than that of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953.

IMPORTANT DATES:

September 8th: death of Elizabeth II , Charles became King

September 10th: Proclamation of Charles III by the Board of Accession

May 6th: Coronation of Charles III and his wife Camilla

May 7th: Coronation Concert at Windsor Castle

Written by Nina and Maelyne

Yamaha Corporation

Yamaha Corporation is a Japanese conglomerate operating in many fields, including musical instruments (its core business), motorbikes, snowmobiles, jet skis, engines, integrated circuits and consumer electronics. It was founded in 1887 by a clockmaker to manufacture organs, Torakusu

Yamaha, but diversified after World War II. It has since become a multinational company.

Torakusu Yamaha is the third son of an astronomer in the service of the Kishu Tokugawa clan. Born in 1851 in Nagasaki he is a Japanese entrepreneur and founder of the Yamaha company.

He studied clock mechanics and medical instruments. Later he was called to repair an organ in a primary school and became interested in organ building. A few months later he built and sold his organ, but received a lot of criticism. He started to receive more and more orders.

Finally he moved into an abandoned building to sell his instruments.

By Aurore.

TREMO'S GOT TALENT !!!

CONGRATULATION TO OUR BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS !

From the 22nd to the 25th of May, Tremolières basketball team took part in a national competition in Boulogne sur mer, and they won the bronze medal !!!!

GOOD LUCK TO 3D STUDENTS FOR THEIR « RALLY MATHS »

On Friday, June 2nd, the students from 3D class go to Renaudeau High school to take part in a local math contest. Fingercrossed for their good results !

HAVE A NICE SHOW TREMO'S SINGERS !

On Friday, June 2nd, our school choir participates in « Chorallège », a great show gathering choirs from different schools. The show takes place in St Louis theatre, in Cholet.

